Dental Hygienist Brings Oral Care to The Center

By Lillian Palmer

Sublette Center is blessed to have so many volunteers donate their time and expertise to The Center's residents. Lynda Jones, a registered dental hygienist at Wind River Dental volunteers her time every Friday morning to clean residents' teeth.

Jones had asked a nurse visiting the dental office if there was a need for anybody to help, and was welcomed. Aside from daily care provided by staff and dental office visits, "this is a chance they get to have a good thorough clean. I inspect the mouth for disease as well," Jones said. "Nurses here are so busy, I thought a little bit of help can help, and I love it."

"It's great for me, I really enjoy it," resident Janice said. Jones has been cleaning residents' teeth for a few months now and her weekly visits are anticipated.

"It takes a while to earn people's trust when you're sticking your hands in their mouths. I think I spend more time talking than brushing, but that's what makes it fun."

Love and Marriage

BY RICH BOETTCHER

There is nothing quite like love, nothing very close at all
Whether slowly or quite quickly, its like some mysterious call

There's an inner magnetism, that sets one's heart a glow and then before you know it, you've each found yourself a beau

Now, buying and much planning, bride's maids and best men too
Then you meet there at the alter, with loving smiles for each "I do"

Hospital District News

From Kari DeWitt

The Hospital District printed a list of the current Providers who are serving the Clinic. If you have questions about any of our Providers or who you would like to see, please feel free to call the Clinic and ask for more information.

We are excited to welcome Dr. Hastey as our new Internal Medicine Physician. He comes to us from Wisconsin, but his wife has family in Pinedale.

Dr. Hastey received his medical degree from the University of Virginia School of Medicine. This is the first time that Sublette County has had an Internal Medicine Doctor. We are happy to welcome Dr. Hastey to Sublette County.

Word in the Center; Mother's Day

In recognition of Mother's Day this month, we're going to reminisce about our own and lessons learned from them.

"That could be one in a million things. That's the whole life of having children, is the joy you get out of it. She taught me just to love and take care of your family. She never gave up."

Charlotte

"My mother was my best friend. It was during WWII and my dad was in the army. She went to work as a welder. My grandmother made parachutes. That's how I learned a lot of different things and learned how to survive in this old world. She was "Rosie the Riveter" of Evanston. She taught me how to work at whatever kind of job I wanted. You name it, I've done it."

Sherry

"My mother taught me two valuable things in life, one was how to drive a stick shift, and one was how to sew. Both of them took a lot of patience. She didn't always have a lot of patience, so those were two good things."

Deb, RN

"It wasn't so much that she said the words but the way she lived her life. Always be kind to others, don't downplay other people's feelings, she was just kind. She was so kind, and she loved children."

Vicky

"The day before I was married my mother told me, 'you're entering into a new territory. Don't feel he's yours to change, he's yours to love.' That was something that got me through a lot of times in my marriage, because I wasn't perfect and I couldn't expect perfection. It sounds flowery, but it's not. It's very practical."
